PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS.

Senator Palmer, of Michigan, Makes a Lengthy Speech in Favor of Woman Suffrage.

Considerable Discord in the House Over the River and Harbor Appropriation Bill.

FORTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

The Senate. WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.-The chair laid before the Senate the credentials of the reelection of Senator Ingalls. Also, a letter from the Postmaster General explaining that the erasure in the document sent to the Senate relating to the history of the railway mail service had been made for the reason that the matter erased contained an inference which it was believed best to permit readers to make for themselves, all the facts upon which it was based being fully set forth in the document. The Postmaster General adds that a fair copy of the docuof time and expense that would be involved A resolution was offered by Mr. Sewelli calling upon the Secretary of War to report to the Senate whether any plans or prepara tions have been made by the engineers corps of the army, or by the War Department, for defending the harbors on our sea coast and lakes by torpedoes or otherwise in case of sudden war with any foreign power, and if torpedo stations have been established or are

ment was not made because of the pressure contemplated for such defense. Referred. Mr. Palmer having obtained permission to address to Senate on the woman suffrage question, he said: The joint resolution invo ved the consideration of the broadest step in the progress of the struggle for human liberty that has ever been submitted to any ruler or legislative body. He reviewed the history of the movement, showing its rise and growth from small proportions to great. It had made progress, he said, that had benefitted all and injured none. It had succeeded in creating a public sentiment to which Legislatures had bent and courts bowed. The laws which degraded our wives had been everywhere repealed and modified. Our sisters had been recognized as having brains as well as hearts, and as being capable of transacting their own business affairs. New avenues of self support had been found and profitably entered upon, and the doors of our colleges had ceased to creak their dismay when swong open for the admission of women. Twelve States had extended limited suffrage to women, and three Territories had admitted them to the ballot-box. From none of these had a word of dissatisfaction been heard to the new order of things. The spirit of inquiry connected with the subject had permeated every neighborhood in the land, and none could be so blind as not to recognize the growing and universal development, self-reliance and capacity among American women. They had lost no womanly grace by acquiring greater strength and character, while men had been largely benefited.

Mr. Palmer then took up and reviewed in detail the objections to woman suffrage set forth in the report of the minority of the committee. They were all the objections that could be found, he said, after thirtyseven years of discussion. He hoped every Senator would read these objections. Among them was one citing the physical superiority of men, but offering no suggestion that the voting power of a Sullivan should be increased because of his extraordinary physical strength, or that the lame, balt or blind among men should be disfranchised for physical inferiority. To the objecthat woman was incapable of military service Mr. Palmer replied that the minority Senators had not suggested any willingness to forego their own exemption from conscription by reason of age, nor suggested that Quakers should be disfranchised though non-combatants on principle, nor had the minority insisted on the disfranchisement of large numbers of professional men and civil officers now exempt from military duty. The minority Senators, however, were dismayed at the idea of women attending political caucuses in the evenings, but doubtless enjoyed their presence at routes and entertainments until early morning. In Michigan, Palmer said, the women had for years been attending political meetings at the earnest solicitation of the men in charge of the meetings, and their influence had been always recognized as most excellent. To the objection that few women would | exercise the right of suffrate if they had it, l'almer replies it was unfair and unreasonable. All women had not yet reflected upon the great possibilities to society and humanity involved in an exercise so powerful by them. In 1863 many slaves did not care to he emancipated, but we had not yet heard any petitions to relegate to slavery any that had been freed. There were to day men in all the States who did not exercise suffrage. but no one suggested their disfranchisement. submit to the States the proposed woman suffrege amendment betrayed inexplicable to defend by a pretended regard for women -a course, which to Palmer, seemed illogical in the extreme.

He did not share in the fears of some people that women would be degraded by | weathered and the fever cured in a few days the ballot. Instead of degrading women it by Victoria Pills, the great English remedy would elevate man. It would improve the for malaria. tone of our political gatherings, and the pells would be freed from the vulgarity which now too often characterized them, Elections, instead of being held in stables, would be held in parlors, and the characters of the candidates would be scrutinized, and better public officers chosen. Casting the ballot would be invested with a seriousness | bail, will not reach as high a figure as $150,befitting so grave a duty, and would in that | 000, and may be considerably less. The exregard be second only to a religious observance.

We should divest ourselves, Palmer said. of prejudice and the entanglements of tradition, and undertake a calm and judicial exemination of the points involved in the question. The leading points were, first, was it right? second, was it desirable? and third, was it expedient? From these points of view Palmer discussed the case at some length upon its merits, citing in support of his contentions many illustrations from the recent history of the Territories in which woman suffrage prevails.

He concluded by expressing his convic-tion hat not only was it right but desirable and expedient that woman should vots, but that the dangerous political conditions which were perhaps about to confront us. rendered it our duty for the safety of the Nation no longer to deny to ourselves the political life and strength to be derived from the conscience and moral worth of women. It was agreed that the Senate shall meet at 11 s. m. on and after Monday next. The bill to regulate the fees of pension agents and attorneys was then taken up. Mr. Beck said: In 1884 the pension agents wanted their fees increased to $25, but both Houses of Congress declined to increase them; yet in the Conference Committee the fees were increased.

Mr. Beck said these officers bad no business to "recommend" measures after both Houses of Congress had distinctly declined to pass them. When the Conference Committee, by that act, opened up all the cases be-tween 1878 and 1884, they were tak-ing out of the pockets of the pensioners $3,593,850 on 239,590 claims then pending, and if 185,732 cases that had been rejected, but were still being passed, should be restored, which was not impossible, there would be a further sum which that bill would allow to be squeezed out of the pensioners, amounting to $2,080,000 making a total of $5,6746 95 of which the pensioners were robbed. The pension attorney had sgreed to do the work for $10, and most et the contracts requiring $25 were fraudulent and made under duress.

After further discussion the bill passed without division. The Consular and Diplomatic bill was then called up and passed. The Chair then laid before the Senate the anti silver coinage bill, but without further action the Senate went into executive session, and when the doors reopened adjourned, leaving the bill as unfinished business for to-morrow.

The House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.-When the House met this morning in a continuation of yesterday's session not more than half a dozen members were present, and a further recess of ten minutes was taken. After recess the House went into Committee of the Whole on the River and Harbor bill, out adjourned before doing anything.

The House was instantly called to order. and the legislative day of Friday begun. After disposing of private business, consideration was resumed of the River and Harbor bill. I The appropriation for the improvement of Buffalo Harbor was increased from $75,000 to $1(0,000.

Mr. King offered an amendment appropriating $15 000,000 for the improvement of Sandy Hook channel mouth, New York Barbor, and advocated its adoption as benefiting the commerce of the entire country. Mr. King, of Louisiana, and Mr. Hiscock. of New York, had quite a personal squabble. It had scarcely subsided before Mr. Young, of Tennessee, and Mr. Willis, of Kentucky became engaged in a personal altercation that was only quieted down when the Chairman directed the Sergeant-at-Arms to see that the members were seated, and the quarrel was not resumed, though the angry feelings of the two gentlemen were not abated. The appropriation for Oswego Harbor was increased from $50,000 to $95,000. The committee then rose and the House took a recess until 8 o'clock this evening. for a session for the consideration of the pen-

The House at the evening session passed twenty-six pension bills, including one granting a pension of $10 each to the minor children of the late Lieutenant Kislingbury, and one increasing to $50 the pension of the widow of Commodore Fillbrown, and adjourned.

ON THE ENGINE.

Rupping a Locomotive While Deathly Sick-Something the Passengers Did Not Know-A Physician Saves an Engineer. TAUNTON, Mass.

Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y: DEAR SIE-1 am an engineer on the Old Colony Railread, and run the Fall River boat train be-tween Fall River and Lowel, residing in Tannton. For ten years I suffered everything but death from dyspepsia. Often I had such biinding sick headaches that I could scarcely see. I think this was due partly to irregular habits of eating. and partly to the jar of the engine. Sometime my head would snap like neuralgia, and again the pain would settle in my eyes, which would feel as big as a man's fists. My breath was very offensive, and my food soured as soon as it entered myl stomach. In fact my stomach felt as though it were a great raw and sore surface, and what agony it gave perhaps you can imagine. In the summer and fall of 1876 when we had the beavy centennial travel, the constant jar brought on accute attacks nearly every week, and thought I should have to leave the road. But l kept at work until the next spring, when I grew so much worse that I could virtually eat nothing. and concluded that my labor, and my life, too, were about over.

Remember, that I had tried every medicine heard of, and had been treated by some of the best physicians in Taunton and Lowell. At this critical time DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVOR-ITE REMEDY was recommended to me. It was new to me, and with my experience of medicines you can easily forgive me for saying that I had not a particle of faith in it.

I had taken it but a few days when I began to get better. The raw and sore feeling left my stomsch, and the snapping pains left my head, and soon I was all right, and have been ever since. It is the only thing that ever did me least the good, and it drove every ache, pain and discom-fort completely out of my body. Now I keep KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY with me on my engine, and it goes wherever I go.
Why, I beli ve FAVORITE REMEDY will cure an engineer who runs the main line boat train iom Bosion came on my engine sick as death. He was worn out with work, had a high fever, and was so nervous he almost broke down crying. 'Nonsense, John," I said. "cheer up, I've got something on my engine that will set you up in a iffy." I took out my bottle of FAVORITE REM-EDY, lifted his head and gave him a good dose. He went to bed. Two days after I saw him look ing as healthy as a butcher. "Dan," he said 'what was that stuff you gave me the other night?" "It was DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FA-VORITE REMEDY, Rendout, N. Y.," said ! 'Well, I don't care whose Remedy it is, it's the thing for a man on a railroad." So say we all. Yours, etc., DANIEL FITTS.

This preparation goes to the root of the disease oy purifying the blood and rousing every organ into healthy action. It is useful at home, shops, in office-everywhere. Dr. David Kennedy, Physician and Surgeon, Rondout, N. Y.

A CHILD!

TALBOTTON, Ga., Sept. 12, 1884.-My little son, now seven years old, broke out when a babe three weeks with what the doctors called eczema, beginning on the head and gradually spreading over his whole body. He was treated for five years or more by various physicians without relief, and the little boy's health was completely broken down. About a year ago I was induced to use on him Swift's Specific, and two bottles cured him sound and well, and there has been no sign of a retun of the disease.

Polsoned by a Nurse.

Some eight years ago I was ineculated with poison by a nurse who injected my babe with blood taint. The little child lingered along until it was about two years old, when its little life was yielded up to the fearful poison. For six long years I have suffered untold misery. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and in my great extremity I prayed to die. No language can express my feelings of woe during these long six years. I had the best medical treatment Several physicians successively treated me, but to no purpose. The Mercury and Potash seemed to add suel to the awful flame which was devouring me. About three months ago I was advised to try Swift's Sp revive in my breast: but uas! alas! we had spent so so, and 1 fe hope sasii much for medical treatment that we were too poor to buy. Oh! the agony of that moment! Health and happiness within your reach, but too poor to grasp it. I applied, however, to those who were able and willing to help me, and I have taken Swift's Specific, and am now sound and well once more. Swift's Specific is the best blood purifier in the world, and is the greatest blessing of the age. Mr.S. T. W. LEE, Greenville, Ala.

A Druggist for Twenty-five Years. AUBURN, Ala., Sept. 8, 1884 .- I am an old pharmacist, and have had to do largely with blood qiseases for over twenty-five years. I have dealt in all kinds of blood purifiers, and do not hesitate to kay that Swift's Specific is the best, and has given more general satisfaction than any other I have ever handled. Last year a young student came to my store emaciated and covered with sores. recommended S. S. S. He took only three bottles, and the sores disappeared, his throat healed up and his skin cleared off. His flesh was smooth and fresh as that of a child, and he has gained ten pounds. I scarcely knew him when he returned after an absence of several weeks. He claimed to be renewed in flesh and spirits. A number of other cases less malignant have come under my observation, and all with the best re sults. Swift's Specific is an excellent tonic, and as an antidote for malaria has no superior. Many ladies are using it as a tonic for general debility and find it the most satisfactory one ever used. have been dealing in Swift's Specific for five years or more, and am satisfied that I do not place too high an estimate upon its merits.
